Grey Coast Theatre Company present Gunn’s gripping re-working of the Sophocles “Oedipus at Colonus” set in a post-oil futuristic Caithness where the clans are at constant war.

A community cast, script in hand, tackle the music of language, conflict and the eternal plight of the refugee.

A 2,500 year old story, set in the future and brought to you now. This is entertainment with an edge.

Scotland’s most northerly professional theatre company continue to put Caithness on the theatrical map.
